NSW builder wins national Bathroom of the Year

NSW based Everyday Homes has won the 2012 HIA Australian Bathroom of the Year Award at the residential building industry's prestigious awards ceremony held at the sunny Cairns Convention Centre.

The HIA-CSR Australian Housing Awards recognise the nation's top builders and designers. Winners are selected from a list of state-based finalists, with awards in 20 separate categories (see full list below).

This award, partnered by GWA Bathrooms and Kitchens, recognises excellence in the construction, design appearance and innovation of bathrooms.

The judges described the bathroom as functionality and luxury coming together to create an unconventional bathroom. The clean, modern design captures the surroundings with glass throughout.

HIA Managing Director Shane Goodwin said the HIA-CSR Australian Housing Awards are the pinnacle of housing awards and reflects the increasingly diverse and competitive Australian housing industry.

"HIA is committed to recognising the outstanding achievements of our members. This year, we have had some of the most creative and innovative ideas from HIA members. They have certainly outdone themselves and it is my pleasure to congratulate each winner for the hard work and dedication they continue to display. From sustainable initiatives to incredible workmanship, these homes will be unforgettable and we are proud to call these winners HIA members."

HIA is Australia's peak building industry body representing more than 40,000 builders, suppliers and contractors involved in residential construction.

Judged by industry professionals, the awards acknowledge the talent of builders, designers and building companies who plan and construct quality new housing, apartments, renovations, kitchens and bathrooms.
